LATHROP SUSTAINED

Charges Against New York Prison Superintendent Dismissed.

THE MATTER HANGING FOR A YEAR

Charged with Malfeasance in Office, Gov. Morton Concurs in the Report of Special Commissioner Brown, Favorable to the Superintendent.

Albany, Oct. 10 .- The oft-repeated charges which have been made during the past two years against Gen. Austin Lathrop, as superintendent of state prisons, have at last been dismissed by Gov. Morton. In thus acting the governor has disposed of a question which has been before the legislature and himself for upwards of a year and a half. The charges were originally made against Gen. Lathrop in February, 1895, and a special committee of the senate was appointed to investigate them and to report if they would warrant the removal of the superintendent. This committee reported and its Endings were transmitted to Gov. Morton. The governor refused to act thereon because no specific charges accompanied the report. In September, ex-Longressman Weaver, and former Sheriff White of Plattsburg, presented formal charges to Gov. Morton against Gen. Lathrop, which were based upon the report of the senate investigating committee. Upon these charges the governor was asked to remove Gen. Lathrop. At the time the prison superintendent filed an answer denying the charges specifically and generally. The governor appointed A. H. Brown of Watertown as a special commissioner to investigate the charges and report his undings to the governor. The report of Commissioner Brown was filed with the governor in June last, and the decision of the governor is based upon that report. Accompanying the decision the governor writes an e chaustive opinion of 12,000 words, in which he reviews each of the thirteen specifications contained in the charges and the whole case in detail. Briefly stated, the charges were that Gen. Luthrop was guilty of gross malfeasance and neglect of duty through the purchase of inferior beef; the selling below market value of the products of the prisons: the payment of excessive salaries to certain employes of the prisons, and in permitting cruel and inhuman punishments to be indicted upon refractory prisoners by subordinates. A number of other charges are also made. The governor reviews with painstaking detail the testimony relating to eathrcharge, and the result of his conclusions as to each specification is given in the summing up of the proof and is in almost every instance favorable to the superintendent, or, if not exculpatory, at least fairly and reasonably explanatory of his actions so far as his subordinates were concern d. As to the twelfth count, that Gen Lathrop permitted some of the wardens and other others of the prisons to use the property of the state in such a manner as to secure for themselves some gain or advantage, the governor finds that Albert Thayer, a prother of the warden of Chinton prison, while employed as an officer in the prison, acred as agent of a firm who had a contract in 1835 for the manufacture of chairs by prison labor, and that he received $30 a month therefor for almost two years. The warden denies all knowledge of this, and there is no direct evidence that he knew of it, nor is it claimed that the superin-

London, Oct. 10 .- The Standard, conservative, says that there is a disposition among the liberals to attribute Lord Rosebery's retirement to Sir William Vernon Harcourt's speech at Ebb Vale on Monday. Sir Wilham avoided any reference to his chief, while John Morley, who formerly warmly supported him, has lately avoided any public reference to Lord Rosebery and has been supposed to favor Sir William Vernon Harcourt. The Standard alleges that Lord Rosebery was very sensitive at this ostentatious neglect.

Bicycle Rider Killed by a Train.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 10.-Wm. H. Hayden, ex-councilman and a foreman in the Wheeler & Wilson sewing room, was killed at the Iranistan avenue railroad crossing last evening by the Boston express. He was riding a bicycle and tried to sprint across the tracks in front of the train. The flagman warned him but he did not stop. He was 52 years old and leaves a wife and daughter.

An Old Rochester Resident Dead.

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 10.-Patrick Cox, the well known manufacturer of sion prevailing, to the effect that in this city, died at his residence last connection with her Red Cross relief night, aged 57 years. Mr. Cox has been intimately connected with the business enterprises of Rochester for many years and the executive officer of the Co 1 Shoe company.

CAPE ANN BANK ALL RIGHT Transacting Business To-day as Usual-Suicide Marsh's Defaication.

Cloucester, Mass., Oct. 10.—The excitement occasioned by the suicide and defalcation of Treasurer Marsh of the Cape Ann Savings bank has almost entirely been allayed, and the bank today is transacting busisness as usual. Confidence was restored when it was found that men of wealth had offered to pay depositors at the savings bank 97 cents on the dollar if they were going to draw out their deposits; hence, the deposits drawn from the bank did not aggregate more than $2,000 to $3.000, while there were quite a number who made deposits. No other defalcations have as yet been discovered. other than that of the Gilbert trust funds, about $35,000, and $20,000 of that is made good by John E. Somer, Allen Rogers, John Corliss, John L. Dustin, jr., and Sylvester Cunningham, who were on Mr. Marsh's bond, which leaves a deficiency of about $18,000, or less than one-half of-what was first expected. As no new developments have come to light it is thought that the other funds of which Mr. Marsh was trustee and guardian may be intact. Mr. Marsh's downfall, it is stated, was due to speculation in stocks, not altogether in regular nouses, but in "bucket shops" which have been established in Gloucester for more than fifteen years.

Hildreth Estate Sald To Be Missing.

A hasty investigation into the affairs of the late Dr. Dharles H. Hildreth. who died a few years ago leaving an estate valued at from $28,000 to $30,000. mostly personal property, and of which Marsh was guardian, reveals the fact this morning it is said that the properry has about been wiped out. Those who claim to know say that not more han $5,000 of the estate can be accounted for and that about $25,000 aust have been embezzled, but a furner examination will be made as soon as possible. Dr. Hildreth left a wife and one son in this city, from whose residence the funeral of Mr. Marsh will take place this afternoon.

Tex.. and the date and details of his approaching wedding had been anhounced with a flourish in some of the Atlanta newspapers Failing to reeive pecuniary aid from his relatives in Texas, and having only five dollars in his pussession, Ragland killed himsulf. Soon after hir death was discovered a telegram came to the deadman from his father in Texas, stating that bands for his trip and for his marriage expenses had been placed to his order in a local bank.

SYMPATHY FOR THE CASTLES. Americans Arrested in London as Thieves Are Vouched for by High Officials.

London, Oct. 10.—The United States empassy here is making every possible effort to ameliorate the position of the Americans, Walter Michael Castle and his wire. Ella Castle, who were arrested on Wednesday on the complaint of several furriers, charging them with stealing valuable sable and chinchilla skins. Upon arraignment in the ponce court, the two were remanded for a week without bail. The prisoners, who elaim to be well known in New York and San Francisco, are receiving many telegrams and letters of sympathy, and are also receiving offers of assistance from all parts of America and England. It is learned at the I nited States embassy that Secretary Olney vouches for the good character of Mr. and Mrs. Castle, and that the mayor of San Francisco, the attorney general of the state of California and Baron Rothschild will also certify to their respectability.

Two Paintings for Fairmount Park. Philadelphia, Oct. 10 .- The commissioners of Fairmount park have decided to purchase from Lowin & Co., of London, two paintings, at a cost of £5,600. For one of the paintings, by Carlo Creville, £4,000 will be expended, £1,000 being paid on April 1 next, and the balance during the year, as the revenues of the commission will warrant. ## ACCIDENT TO PARIS BIKE BANDIT

The Big Ocean Liner Probably Going Ahead with One Engine.

AGENTS DO NOT FEEL ALARMED

With Fair Weather She Should Reach Southampton Friday Next, Two Days Late---Story Told by an Officer of the Fuerst Bismarck.

New York, Oct. 10.-The report sent out last night by the marine observer at Fire Island that he sighted an American line steamer south of Fire Island coming in, and that he believed it to be the steamer Paris, proved to be erroneous, as the vessel he saw was the St. Louis, which reached her dock early this morning. The captain reports passing the Paris at 11:46 p.m., Oct. 8, and exchanged night signals with her when 458 miles east of Sandy Hook lightship, but did not know of her having been disabled. The agents of the American line in this city say they feel no anxiety for the safety of the Paris, and that she can make about seventeen knots with one engine, and with favorable weather she should reach Southampton next Friday, two days late. If the engine now working should break down, as, it is claimed by some, is not all improbable, considering the additional strain she is forced to undergo, the vessel would be practically helpless. The agents say. however, that there is no cause for apprehension, for if there had been any danger the vessel would have put back. The Paris was sighted 350 miles from Sandy Hook by the Fuerst Bismarck Thursday afternoon. She was disabled; one of her engines had broken down. The Paris did not ask for assistance. and her officers stated that they would be able to proceed without danger. The story of the meeting with the Paris as told by first officer C. Pesvors of the Fuerst Bismarck is as follows: When in latitude 41.07, longitude 66.19, at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the l'aris was sighted lying to and directly in the path of the German steamship. She was flying a signal that she had something to communicate and the Fuerst Bismarck was stopped within a ship's length of the American liner. A hoat was lowered by the crew of the Paris and in a few minutes the chief officer was aboard the German vessel. He explained to the captain that one of the engines had broken down, and, handing over a sealed let-

"All the particulars are in this. which I hope you will have delivered at the American line office in New York as soon as possible." Then the oficer handed over a large bag full of letters written by the passengers to their friends in America. These were taken charge of by the purser, who posted them in New York upon the arrival of the Fuerst Bismarck. The l'aris' officer was only on board the lerman steamer for about ten minates, but he explained that the accident was not a serious one. He said that about 10 o'clock on the same day he starboard engine had broken down. The port engine was still in good condition, however, and the opinion on the Paris was that, even if repairs to the injured engine could not be made. the vessel would be able to get along at a respectable rate of speed.

Says Passengers Were Excited.

As soon as the American line's small boat left, the Fuerst Bismarck continued on her course. Officers and passengers aboard watched the Paris through telescopes as long as possible and agreed in saying that to all appearances she was still lying hove to when they last saw her. Although otheers of the Fuerst Bismarck say that there was no excitement aboard the Paris, a different story is told by the passengers. Among the latter was James L. High of Chicago, who was seen at the dock by a reporter. He said: "Why, there was great excitement. I never saw such a time in my life. The bulwarks were lined with the passengers who were shouting and waving handkerchiefs and flags. Every now and then some of them would yell at us, but we couldn't hear what they said because so many of them were shouting at once. If they were not excited I do not know who was. It was a pretty sight to see two vessels close together, almost within a stone's throw of each other, and all the people cheering and waving the flags. Our band played to enliven the people on the Paris."

Germanic Ships a Big Sea.

WAS SURROUNDED BY A POSSE

Traced To a Farm House, He Shoots Dead a Deputy Sheriff and Escapes on His Wheel---Pedal Broke and He

Was Soon Overtaken. Wells, Minn., Oct. 10.—John D. Sair, who no doubt engineered the robbery at Sherburne, Wednesday afternoon, is dead, as is also Marshal Gallien of Bancroft, Ia. This bloody sequel to the Martin county tragedy came yesterday in a bloody battle on the state line near Elmore, Minn. A posse of one hundred men in command of Deputy Sheriff Ward of Martin county, got on the trail of Sair shortly after daylight and tracked him to a farm house. Deputy Ward knocked at the door and was answered by a woman, but before she had spoken three words Sair rushed up behind her and began firing over her shoulder at the officers. He fired seven times in quick succession, one bullet striking Marshal Gallien in the forehead killing him instantly. The desperado then quickly ran out of the house by way of the back door, mounted his bicycle and dashed off toward the east. The posse caught sight of him and followed close behind. This chase was kept up for four miles, when Sair broke a pedal on his wheel and took to the fields on foot. As he ran across a cornfield toward a clump of trees Deputy Sheriff Ward dashed up. dismounted, and resting his gun upon a tree fired, the shot from his Winchester taking effect in the robber's shoulder. The latter fell, it was supposed, from the shot from Ward's gun. but when the posse gathered around him it was discovered that he had shot himself in the head, the shoulder wound being only a slight one. Upon examining the body the officers found a portion of the money stolen at Sherburne in an inside pocket of his shirt, the amount being about $600. Bicyclists are being held for identification at Preston, blooming Prairie and Estherville, Ia. The man captured at the last-named place best answers to the description of the other robber. Fred Pratt, and he will be held until officers can reach Estherville from Wilder, Minn., Pratt's

Indicted for Wife Murder.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 10.-The Cayuga county grand jury has presented an indietment against Frank N. Sheldon for the murder of his wife on April 3 last. At the time of the woman's death conflicting theories of suicide and murder were equally advocated. But the community was startled when a brother of the dead woman openly charged the husband with being a wife murderer. People generally were incredulous and loath to believe the truth of the accusation, for the Sheldon family had a long established record of probity and prosperity. The 20-year-old daughter of Sheldon also openly accused her father of the murder, and the district attorney began an investigation which resulted in the indictment.

Central New York M. E. Conference. Towanda, Pa., Oct. 10 .- At the third day's session of the Central New York Methodist conference, six candidates for the ministry were admitted to full membership. A motion prevailed to bring the matter of increased salaries before the officials and laymen of the churches, and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter of legally incorporating the conference. DUMMY FOUND IN HIS CELL. Mysterious Disappearance of a Twentyfive-Year Convict at Auburn Prison.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Seldom have the officials of Auburn prison met with so clever and mysterious a disappearance as confronted them yesterday when the door of Lewis Sarles' cell was thrown open and a guard went in to arouse the form on the cot. He was dumbfounded to find that the apparent sleeper was nothing but a dummy of straw topped off with a bunch of hair. Investigation showed that eight inches of the heavy iron cell door had been skilfully sawed off at the bottom, and through this small opening the convict had wriggled with undoubted difficulty. How Sarles passed through the corridors unobserved by the guards and how he obtained egress through several locked doors between his cell and the prison yard are matters of the greatest perplexity to the officials. It is known that he did this, however, for in a distant part of the prison was found the only other obtainable clue to the man. He attacked a thick iron bolt on a door in the mess hall and sawed it through. but his plans failed in this direction, for there was another bolt on the other side of the door. Sarles is under sentence of twenty-five years for burglarizing the Westchester county store of Walker B. Adams, who was recently killed by burglars. The offense was committed in the fall of 1889. Sarles, in company with another convict, attempted a strike for reedom a month ago, but failed while in the act of scaling the wails at night. Saries fell from the top of a ladder to the ground, nearly breaking his back. On this account he has remained most of the time since in his cell. As soon as the man's absence was detected all of the prison shops were shut down, the convicts were marched to their cells. and search within the walls of the prison was begun.

FIGHT WITH MOORISH PIRATES. A French Bark Pillaged and a Rescuing Spanish Steamer Attacked.

Malaga, Oct. 10.-The Spanish merchant steamer Seville, which has arrived here from French Mediterranean ports, reports that the French bark Corinthe, while becalmed near the island of Alhucemas, the Spanish-prisonsettlement off the coast of Morocco. was recently attacked by armed Moors in boats. The pirates bound the crew of the bark and afterwards pillaged her. The crew of the Seville succeeded in rescuing one of the crew of the Corinthe and captured one boatload of loors. When the Seville approached the Corinthe, the pirates opened fire upon the Seville, killing two men and wounding four af the crew, and eventually compelled her to retire. A Spansh gunboat has been sent to Morocco with instructions to demand the retease of the prisoners and the payment of an indemnity. The outrage took piace in Spanish waters.

GENESEE M. E. CONFERENCE. Important Matters Discussed at the Third Day's Session at Corning.

Corning, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The third day of the Genesee conference of the Methodist Episcopal church was an important one. The committee on the better support of superanuated preachers reported that in the future all tunds except the conterence collections shall be divided on the annuity plan and the collections reserved for very necessary cases. The constitutional questions submitted by the quadrennial general conference were the question of admission of women to the gencral conference, which was decided in the affirmative, the vote standing 129 yeas and 50 nays, and on the change of the ratio so that the ministerial and lay delegates be equal the vote stood 78 yeas, 100 nays. The afternoon was taken up with the funeral service of the late Dr. Andrew Purdy, who fell dead on the street Thursday.

Hearing on Howard Gould's Complaint. London, Oct. 10 .- The Yacht Racing association will meet on Tuesday, when a number of matters, including the letters of Howard Gould on the subject of the examination made of Niagara by the association's committee, will be considered. His case is the fourth on the agenda paper. It has been learned that the meeting will simply direct that a courteous acknowledgement of the receipt of Mr. Gould's letters be sent to him.

ROSEBERY EXPLAINS

Eastern Question Not Alone Responsible for His Retirement.

NOT GIVEN SUPPORT A PEER NEEDED

His Party Defeated by Its Own Followers. The Policy He Suggested for the Election Ignored---Mr. Gladstone Innocently Gave the Coup de Grace.

Edinburgh, Oct. 10.-Speaking in this city last night Lord Rosebery, the ex-prime minister, discussed the remedies that had been suggested for the settlement of the Turkish question. He adduced reasons against nearly every one of the remedies. Regarding the proposal that Russia should take possession of Constantinopie, Lord Rosebery said that the late government (his own) had been extremely anxious to arrive at an entente with Russia, and he was still in every way hopeful that a satisfactory understanding between Great Britain and Russia on the Turkish question would be reached. He urged the advocates of the proposal, however, to remember the treatment that had been accorded the Poles by the Russians. Moreover, he asked, how is Great Britain to give to Russia what is not hers?

Differs with Gladstone.

Avowing veneration and unaltered friendship for Mr. Gladstone, Lord Rosebery said that he could not agree with the proposal made by the latter in his Liverpool speech to withdraw the British ambassador from Constantinople, or to threaten action which could not be effected if the powers did not approve. Such a course would lead to humiliation. He differed with Mr. Gladstone in the opinion that Great Britain was bound by the Cyprus convention to intervene in Turkey. This convention had been a dead letter since it had been signed. He did not desire specially the retention of Cyprus and would willingly give it to any power. except Turkey, as the ### price of a European concert. Would Threaten Great Britain's Existence.

Lord Rosebery further declared that he was emphatically opposed to isolated action-by Great Britain on the Turkish question and would fight the proposal that she act alone tooth and nail. Such action would mean a European war, with the slaughter of hundreds of thousands, threaten the existence of Great Britain and perhaps, precede the extermination of the He could Armenians. nothing more futile, dangerous and disastrous than such a policy. Any British minister incurring a European war except through the necessity of interests distinctly British would be a criminal to his country and to his position. He believed that any just war would have the assistance of the British colonies.

Had Net Received Loyal Support.

Lord Rosebery then referred to his retirement from the leadership of the liberal party, saying that the difference of opinion on the eastern question was only one of a series of incidents that had induced him to resign the teadership. Hs added that he had not received the loyal support that a peer needed if he was to lead his party successfully. His government in its early days had been defeated by its own followers. The policy he had suggested for the election had not been adopted. Finally, Mr. Gladstone had innocently administered the coup de grace. The internal differences in the party had been equal to the external differences. His action had been so hampered as to render his position untenable. He had tendered his resignation to his colleagues after the election. Lord Rosebery, in concusion, thanked Messrs. Fowler, Asquith, Bryce and Arnold Morley for their cordial support. The meeting unanimously adopted a resolution expressing gratitude for the manner in which Lord Rosebery had led the liberal party, deeply regretting his retirement, and earnestly hoping that he would reconsider his ### action and resume the leadership. Great Interest at the Clubs.

The clubs here last night were filled with members, who eagerly awaited a report of Lord Rosebery's speech at Edinburgh. The Central News was alive to the importance of the occasion and caused a column of the speech to be put on the "tickers" concurrent with its delivery. This report was devoured with avidity, and the references to the reasons that caused Lord Rosebery to throw up the leadership of his party were excitedly discussed. A great throng filled the National Liberal club, which presented the appearance it does at the time of a general election. Lord Rosebery's reference to Messrs. Fowler, Asquith, Bryce and Arnold Morley, which defined the Cleveage in the Rosebery cabinet, especially interested the readers of the speech. His response to the resolution adopted at the meeting was regarded as leaving open the question of his possible resumption of the leadership. Alexander Asher, who was solicitorgeneral for Scotland in Mr. Gladstone's last cabinet, stated afterwards that he believed that Lord Rosebery would soon be re-elected as leader of the liberal party.

Hurried ceremonies of marriage could be performed there without the necessity of publishing banns, and before the irate parents of the contracting parties could prevent it. We live to-day in a blaze of publicity. The presence of a local paper, eager perhars for a sentimental paragraph, restrains many a foolish maiden to-day from an elopement which her grandmother would have looked upon as a sentimental episode. Our girls of today are not given up as the girls of a few generations ago were to the all-ahsorbing pursuit of "husbands." They are not engaged in the unwomanly task of "setting their cape," as the old phra-e goes, for every "handsome stranger" that appears. They must be wooed and von by some more sterling quality than a handsome face and fine clothes. It s a great mistake to think that a pretty girl arrays herself in dainty gown and "fetching" colors merely to attract suitors. She dresses in pretty color, and rraceful, attractive fashion because she s arreacted to such surroundings. She travs her room and fits out all her surroundings in the same way, because he enjoys beauty. She is gay, because he is young. Somber thoughts belong o experience. The danger is that the modern girl, with all her exuberance of an mal spirits, may be misunderstood. She will be wise and she will be doubly ittractive if through all her gayety, her natural flow of spirits, there he hrown a certain reserve. Let her toitets he as dainty and beautiful as she can obtain. Let her remember to moderate the tone of her voice. Let her cultivate a certain repose of manner. shich need not interfere with the most

An objection to the old-time maiden undoubtedly was that she was too anxions to be sought. Her future depended upon a successful marriage. Is this the reason why those by-gone loves rere so frequently, if we must believe store loo's, untrue, and the unhappy oniden left as a "blighted being" to drag out long years of purposeless spinsterhood? Sensible girls and sensible oung men sometimes find they have made mistakes, and engagements are oroken, in a sensible manner without either party considering it necessary to pose as heart-broken. Few persons comprehend the dangers that were attached to the work of western newspaper correspondents back in the days when Indian fighting was the principal occupation of sol diers on the border-land. Gen. Nelsor A. Miles, U. S. A., famed the country over for his success in doing bartle with the redskins, was in Chicago recently and one of the first men he met was Edward Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee. The meeting was significant, for it recalled an incident of the early 70's, and how the Nebrasia newspaper secured a meritorious "scoop."

Intimately connected with the Indian uprisings, says the Chicago Journal, were Frank Grouard and Capt. "Jack" Crawford, the latter being better known as the "Poet Scout." Both aid good service as scouts with the Seventh cavalry, Gen Custer commanding.

Capt. Crawford acted at this time also as a correspondent for the Bee, then a was with Col. Benteen, who commanded a part of Custer's con mand at Shim Buttes, and Grouard was with Col Reno, who commanded another detachment of Custer's forces. After the Custer massacre, Reno dispatched Grouard to Deadwood, S. D., the n- arest telegraph station, to notify the war department of the terrible affair. At about the same time Capt. Crawford concluded to ride into Dendwood and dispatch to the Bee the particulars of the fight, and "scoop" the entire country. The majority of the great parars had correspondents with the troops. but none of them dared to ride through a country filled with bostile Indians. nor could they get anyone to do it for them Even had they had the courage to do this, they could not have withstood the bardships of a 300-mile ride over a rough country.

Both Crawford and Grouard met at the stage station at Rock Springs, Wro. and each divined the other's intention of getting off the news of the massacre first. Both were superbly mounted on thoroughbred cavalry horses and both were equally matched as to physical strength and endurance.

It was tacitly agreed to ride together for mutual protection. Hour after hour they rode, sometimes exchanging shots with straggling Indiand again resting their tired horses On the morning of the last day of their ride both stopped for a short nap and to rest their horses. Each kept an eve on the other, however, to prevent him from stealing a march. When they got ready to go Grouard broke his cinch while saddling his horse, and, before he could repair it, Crawford was rounding out of sight in a deep gulch. They had entered the foot-hills of the Black Hills Grouard galloped after him. As the cabins of the little town of Spcarfish loomed into view Crawford was half a mile ahead. As he entered the town his jaded horse was ready to fall. Seeing a cowboy's broncho hitched in front of a house, he leaped from his horse and upon the cowboy's and was off just as Gronard roce into the town. The 15 miles between Spearfish and Deadwood were soon covered.

When Grouard rode up to the telegraph office in Deadwood Crawford Lad sent half of a 2,000-word dispatch and the people in Omaha were realing the details of the slaughter. The Omaha Bee thus secured the biggest "scoop" any paper in the country had ever had up to that time. In this ride the two scouts covered 300 miles in 36 hours with but three changes of horses.

During the last Indian campaign at Pine Ridge, in 1890-91, Groward was Gen. Miles' chief of scouts, and did good service. He also acted in the same capacity during the troubles between the cattlemen and rustlers in Johnson county. Wyo. He was then with Maj. Whiteside's command at Fort McKinney. Grouard is of Indian blood and his family lives at Pine Ridge agency. At present he is in St. Joseph, Mo.

Capt. Jack Crawford is a resident of New Mexico at present. He is in the employ of the United States government in the department of justice. He is well known from his lectures and poetical contributions. He is a picturesque character and still affects the long hair and habiliments of the western plaiusman.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a topic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness yield to Electric Bitters 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is an antiseptic, soothing and healing application for burns, scalds, cuts, brui es, jetc., and cures piles like magic. It instantly stops pain. W. D. Olney.

THE LEATHERJACKET. Handsome Fish That Is Not Often Found in Northern Waters.

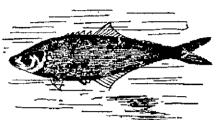

The leatherjacket or skipjack, as it is sometimes called, is a fish common in the Gulf of Mexico and the waters of the West Indies, and as far south as Brazil. On the Pacific coast it is found along Mexico and Central America. On the Atlantic coast the leatherjacket is found in summer as far north as Cape Cod; but it is not common in these waters. The specimen here pictured was taken recently in Gravesend bay and brought to the New York aquarium.

The leatherjacket is a very active swimmer and not adapted to confinement;

his one did not long survive its capture. The leatherjacket is not a good fish to eat, as its flesh is rather hard and dry, but it is a handsome fish to look at. The specimen here shown was about ten inches in length. Its skin had somewhat the appearance of grain leather, caused by the form and arrangement of the scales, which were small, extremely narrow, and deeply embedded in the skin, and irregularly placed, making very fine, irregular, lateral wrinkles all over the leatherjacket's body.

The body of the leatherjacket is very thin, and spindle-shaped. It has a slender tail, and a small, pointed snout. A short spiny fin on the back is followed by a longer dorsal fin, which is broken up into many finlets. The anal fin also is long and partly composed of finlers behind. There are two very strong sharp spines in front of it. The leatherjacket has a small head and large eyes and a moderately large mouth. It is of a purplish gray on the upper part of its body, but the lower and greater part of its body is silvery. The breast fins and the caudal fins are tinged with yellow. The leatherjacket is formed for speed and it is a quick swimmer. Its nearest relations among well-known fishes are the pompano, the moonfishes. the threadfish, the yellow mackerel, and the amberfishes.

Marie Corelli Scores Bloomers. Marie Corelli, the author, is falling foul of the press for saying she has been entertaining a party of grouse-killers in Scotland. She writes: "I do not shoot, but would like to do so now, not at grouse, but at the liars. A few liars less in the world would give us all more breathing room and a sweeter atmosphere. I do not ride a bike, have not inrented a bike costume, and entirely abhor bike riding for women. Men look sufficiently hideous and undignified on a bike, and women are worse than aideous; they are immodest. The Democratic State Committee is in recept of most encouraging reports from all the rur d countres of the State. In these strongholds or Republicanism from which have come the majorities on which Republic in managers have relied to offset the big Democratic vote of the cities, the silver sentiment is growing stronger with each succeeding day. In some localities a very large proportion or the Republican voters have openly declared their intention of supporting Bryan and Sewall A case in point is furnished by our wide awake and well informed Up-Midlandcorrespondent Rusticus who writes as follows:

The Cooks Lalls election district of the town of Colchester is abve for Bryan and Sewall. More than twenty Republicans in that district have already declared then intention of voting for her silver and more are coming forward at every meeting of the Bryan and Scwall clubs It is thought that there will be a change of thuty before Nov 3rd. The Repubheans are flooding the district with campaign literature that makes excellent kindling wood. A. P. Cook, who was elected Justice of the Peace on the Republicanticket two years ago, is stumping the town for Bryan.

Health

Depends upon keeping the blood in a pure condition, tree from disease germs, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleanses, vitalizes and enriches the blood, throwing out the impurities that clog and irritate the system and permits no lodgment of the seeds of disease. Read the following: | ple of Middletown. "I cannot recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla too highly for it has done wonders and all run down and my health was so poor I could not get out of doors. I was not able to do anything, being troubled with asthma and heart disease. I was nervous and could not sleep nights. I had become completely discouraged when I happened to read an advertisement of Hood's Sarasparilla and concluded to give it a trial. After taking the first bottle I felt better and since taking five bottles I am so much improved that I feel like a new man. I am new able to de a fair day's work and sleep at night. My heart does not trouble me and I have realized great relief for asthma. I feel full of courage once more and life seems brighter and worth living. I would recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all afflicted as I have been, for I know it will help them. If this statement of facts will be of benefit, you are welcome to use it as you please." HENRY J. YOUNG AMERICAS' DEPARTURE. The Last of the Visiting Firemen Leave Town, Yesterday Afternoon - Left

Had so Good a fime Before. The last of the visiting firemen to leave iown were Young Americas, who started for Poughkeepsie about 5 o'clock, yesterday afternoon. A truck laden with spoil was sent to the depot in advance of the company and the guests of the visitors carried some of their trophies in the street parade, which the company gave as a farewell to Mic. dletown. The guests lined up behind "Chie" Higham's banner, "Just tell them that you saw me and that I was havin' fun." One of them carried a huge Japane e umbrella, another a large stuffed crane, another a large mounted duck, while two of the Excelsiors, who acted as escorts, drew a little express wagon containing a plaster of Paris elephant, labeled G. O. P., which had been

In the company's patrol wagon, propped up against the seat, was the stuffed figure of a fireman captured from the third story of Brink & Clark's store, which bore on its back this placard: This man was killed by the line of picked up in some out of the way place

The members of the company, who had kept the town lively with their pranks all day, dropped all nonsense as soon as they took their places in line in front of their parade carriage. They were all as "fresh as daisies" and not one of them was the worse for the wear and tear of the big time they had had.

The members of the company, who have had more outings, trips and excursions than any firemen in Eastern New York, were more than delighted with their visit to Middletown and united in declaring that they had never before had half as good a time.

The company on its arrival in Poughkeepsie, last night, was given a most hearty reception by the fire department and citizens

The Poughkeepsie News-Press says:

Along the route the firemen were greeted by cheers of enthusiasm, bonfires. and fireworks. Many of the houses and business places were tastefully decorated, and an especial demonstration of fireworks was made in front of Crockett's

Poughkeepsie can well be proud of Young America and the reception they received. The complimentary references made of them in the Middletown papers reflect most creditably upon this city and the fire department they represent. Their appearance and their marching last evening was the theme of praise on

Ball and Cake Walk-Seats for Vocal Society Concerts-The Mission at St. John's-Funeral of Mrs. McElroy-Reglster To-day-Presbyterian Church Trustees. From Our Regular Correspondent.

-The Goshen colored people gave a grand old-time ball and cake walk at Purdy's Hall last night.

-Holders of season tickets for the Vocal Society's concerts should have the seats checked off at once at C. E. Millspaugh's. The first production, "Rebekah," a sacred idyl, a cantata by Jos. Barnby, author of "Sweet and Low." will be given on the 22nd inst. Single concert ticket will soon be issued. -The funeral of Mrs. William McIlroy was held at 2 p. m. to-day. She died Thursday of cancer, aged forty-eight years. Some time ago the deceased underwent a surgical operation at St. Luke's Hospital for the removal of the cancer. The operation was beneficial in a degree and prolonged her life, aithough its good results were not permanent.

-Voters should register to-day. Polling places are open from 9 a.m. to 9

-Messrs, J. W. Corwin, A. V. D. Wallace and N. J. Kelsey have been re-elected trustees of the Presbyterian Church.

WISCONSIN'S HOLY HILL

A Zamous Place of Pilgrimage for Thou-

Twenty thousand or more pilgrims from the United States visit Holy Hill. Wis., yearly. Although the miraculous results of these pilgrimages are not Quelied for by the Catholic shuren, et many of these pilgrims go away. declaring themselves cured of their infirmities, leaving behind them their crutches as silent witnesses.

The fame of the place dates back to the days of Father Marquette, who is said to have chosen it as early as 1073 from all other Wisconsin wilds as a lace of fasting and preyer.

When he first ascended the peak he placed a rude wooden cross, built a simple altar, and dedicated the place to his tutelary saint-Mary. Since that time 166 festivals have been celebrated.

At the foot of the bill there is a priest's house, built in 1861, at the same time the first church was erected on the summit. For a time the priest was stationed there, who found it too lovely for endurance, and it was abandoned, save on the festival days, when elergymen from surrounding parishes gather to aid the services.

On these occasions pilgrims from hundreds of miles distant, the lame, the sick, the halt and the blind, wind their weary way from the priestly abode at the foot of the hill to the summit, stopping at each of the 14 praying staions, placed at regular intervals on the winding ascent, to petition their patron saint for cure of mental or bodily allments.

These 14 stations of prayer, built at an expense of $1,100, represent the path traversed by the Redeemer, laden with the cross, from the house of Pontius Pilate to Mount Cavalry and the holy sepulcher. The expense of their building was furnished from excursionists to the hill on feast days and from private benevolence.

Among the diseases mentioned in a published record cured by visiting this hill are St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, opthalmania, paralysis, rheumatism, melencholy, cancer, stiffness of joints and

Many pilgrim visitors to the shrine of St. Mary make the ascent on their knees, others place pebbles, buckshot, beans and peas in their shoes in emulation of martyrs

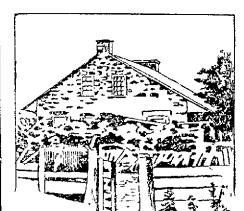

Instances are related of people in good health visiting St. Mary's to pray for the recovery of their sick unable to come, who were healed at the moment of the prayer.

LEE'S HEADQUARTERS.

Burning of the Gettysburg Cottage Occupied by the Southern Leader.

Gen. Robert E. Lee's headquarters during the three days' battle at Gettysburg, reported to have been destroyed by fire, was a stone cottage. It stood on an emmence opposite Culp's Hill, and has occupied by him during the contest in which he was worsted Built of stone, the house contained four rooms and an attic, and was embowered with frellistrained grape vines. It was from this title cottage, built in colonial times, with high roof and diamond-shaped window panes, that Gen Lee directed his repeated assaults upon Cemetery Hill,

Col Freeman Connor, who commanded the Forty-first New York volunteers,

GUN. LEE'S HEADQUARTERS

tells the story of this little house as fol-

"Standing out in bold relief on the side of a hill, it was out of cannon reach, but from the movements of the confederates we knew that their charges were inspired from this point. It was replized that Gen. Lee had his headquarters in the cottage, and, though no assault was made on the point, as we were on the defensive, it was from this cottage Pickett's charge was directed, his defeat witnessed and the victory for Meade and the union army realized as soon as that great charge was seen to have failed."

Water Veil in Tamps, Fla.

The docks at Port Tampa, Fla., it is claimed, have the best fire protection of any place in the country. The scheme, which has been in use for two years, was planned by Chief A. J. Harris of the Tampa fire department. It is known as the "water veil." A large main from the water works plant at Port Tampa City runs all over the docks, and then on top of the buildings runs a line of perforated pipes. Water can be turned through these pipes instantly, and the water runs out upon the roof, completely enveloping the building, thus shutting out all possibility of its catchdignovn ing fire from any outside source.

PREMATURE INTERMENT

Bimple Scientific Test Which Is C rtain to Prevent It.

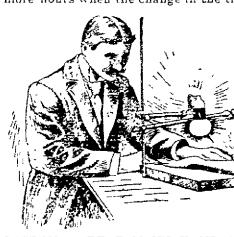

Dr. Carl L. Barnes, of New York, Writes That the X Rays Soive a Dread Problem - An Account of his Experiments.

Dr. Carl Barnes, an eminent authority in the medical profession, has aicovered a method which will certainly prevent burials alive. He holds that when the hand of a person supposed to be dead is exposed to the X ray the failure of the light to penetrate it will show positively that death has actually occurred. This is very important in these days when so many well authenticated resuscitations from supposed death have been recorded. This is what he has written to the New York Jour-

"My experiments are based on the discovery of the fact that a dead hand, held in such a position that an X ray may penetrate it, will not transmit the ray. This is the more to be wondered at when it is understood that the X ray will pass through the hand of the liv-

"My experiment showing the greatest practical result to the unscientific mind was the making of a sciagraph of a living and a dead hand on the same plate. Placing my hand and the arm of a dead man that had been amputated at the elbow on a sensitized piece of glass in a plate holder, I focused the powerful ray on the two objects. This plate, after having been exposed for 15 minutes, was developed to show a startling result While the bones of both my arm and that of the dead were plainly visible, he fleshy part of the dead arm was much darker.

"There is a reason for this marked difference which has its seat in the fact of the change that takes place in the blood after death. The red corpuscles of the blood are biconcave discs. which have highly refractory power in life, which makes it possible for the light to penetrate the structure. After death the corpuscles are almost opaque. This change in the condition of the blood, however, is gradual. When the sciagraph is taken within a few hours after death, the hands of the dead and the living will be alike, but after a few more hours when the change in the tis-the most unscientific mind will apprecrate that there will be no possibility of premature burial. For the power of the mysterio is ray upon the dead and the fiving is so unmistakable to the result produced that there can be not the slightest possibility for hesitation in the decision of the presence of life or death.

"Of the constituents of the human body, the first to undergo decomposition after death is the blood. In order after the blood follow the intestines, traches brain and muscle. Hitherto all signs of death have their exceptions. Absence of circulation is a good test, but in stances are on record where people have been restored when there was neither pulse beat nor heart sounding, and the respiratory function is almost sus pended by narcotic poisoning.

"Ocular tension has hitherto been re garded as a certain test, but in cases of glaucoma the tension during life is very great, consequently after death when the tension naturally relaxes, a glaucomatous eye assumes the tension of a normal eye. Even post-mortem dis coloration cannot be accepted as an in dication of death, as the same staining is frequently seen in life. Neither can muscular contractility be relied on, as after death from Asiatic cholera the contractility often appears in the mus eles of the lower jaw and also in the muscles of the forearm. Rigor mortis is not infallible, as this rigidity is often assumed by cataleptics and those half-drowned or frozen. "All in all, I regard the experiment with the dead arm as a distinct success, which is of vital importance, not only to physicians and undertakers, but to humanity in general, for ingrained in every soul is a latent horror of being

"In connection with the discovery that the X ray has the power of determining the presence of death, I have also made other experiments on the dead body with the rays. I have also discovered that the arteries of the dead may be photographed by injecting the body with plaster of Paris solution. Xrays will not penetrate this solution, so that the arteries of the arm can be photographed for demonstration and dissection, showing them better than the most expert anatomist can do with veripel and forceps."

The ratio of medical students to the population in this country is about twice as great as it is in Europe. The reason of this curious difference is found in the greater case with which a diploma can be obtained in the United States—the medical schools of Europe requiring much more complete previous preparation, and compelling the student to undergo a longer course of study before he is eligible to a degree.

A FEW WORDS REGARDING THE EYESIGHT.

We all desire to possess as good a vision aspossible and to have it lost as far in life as we can, be twhen such as not the case we lose what is of the utmost value to us and grope along in Ignoraire of the blessings of normal vision. If your ever are all right then you have a reason to be thankful, but unless they have been examined, even though the sight may appear correct, there are sometimes beten conditions, which, if corrected at once, would prevent much trouble in later years. Headache, pain over the eyes and watery and Indiancel lids are in most every case due to imperfect refraction and the timely lose of properly fitted glasses give the only relaf and preserve the eyes from further strain. Having studied and practiced the science of opins for years we have good authority for saying that we are fully comparent to take eary of your case. What is Your Comparison? We are prepared to show you what your vision is FREE OF CHARGE.

That it isn't enough merely to save money. Slowly and laborously adding one dollar to another amounts to very little in likelf. Four money must grow to count for much. Money grows most when invested in real estate. The fact is as plain as it is that twice two make four. It's just as plain, too, that property in Middletown is a milt diged investment. This town isn't standing still. Middletown is growing, and reni estate values are certain to steady advance on that account. We have some very choice properties on our books, and those investing now are sure money makers.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Of the Ladies' Guild of the First Congregational Church. The Ladies' Guild of the First Congregational Church met with Mrs. George Allen in her attractive rooms at the State Hospital, yesterday anternoon.

Mrs. E. A. Tice had charge of the meeting. This being the last aussiomary meeting of the year, the programme touched upon the home and foreign fields

A letter from Miss Cuth art, one of our home missionary teachers, was read by Mrs. Albert Marvin.

Progress of the foreign work for the past twenty years was reviewed by Miss Agnes Pa sons.

A poem, "The Missionary Alphabet." was recited by Mrs. Chas. Lyon.

Mrs. Robert Mapes read a paraplet entitled "Robbing God." After singing Mrs. Tice closed the programme with timely and suggestive remarks on theing loyal." Fine recreshments were served.

Some Very Large Pears.

Conrad Gerhardt showed us this morning some pears which are worthy of note. Among them were a Dutchess. which weighted eighteen ounces; a Sheldon nearly as large; a Clapp's Favorite or upusual size, and a Seekel grown on a dwart tree, which is fully as large as at ordinary Bartlett. From two trees Mr. to mardt picked six bushels of these in-16 Sakers. The Datchess and Clapp's Lavorate pears were raised by Mr. Ger-Law, Christian Sperk

Spontaneous Combustion in Feed.

Fire was discovered in a large quantry e leaf stored in the bara of W. H. Bennett in the town of Goshen, yesterday morning, but was excluduashed before much damage was done.

In May last, Mr. Bennett put in thirty five tons of feed which it is thought had undonistedly heated sufficiently to produce fire by spontaneous combustion.

Became a Bride on the Day of Her Grandparents Golden Wedding,

William H. Sayer, of New York, and Miss Elia Reed, of Greenville, were marbride's grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Warren, who at the same time celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their own wedding.

Why Many Mave Colds.

What may seem to some to be an epidemic of colds just now is clearly traceable to the fire parade. Thousand of people stood in the cold, raw air, Thursday. watching for the parade, and very many of them contracted severe colds.

Scalded in a Chowder Kettle.

A Preakness farmer named Regan tell. the other day, into a kettle of clamchowder that was boiling on a stove in a Paterson saloon and was very badly burned. He was taken to the hospital. What was done with the chowder is not

Leeds, the Hypnotist, at the Casino All Next Week.

Don't fail to see Leeds, the hypnotist, at the Casmo all next week. He is said to do some very wonderful things.

Feed the Berves Upon pure, rich blood and you need not fear nervous prostration. Nervos are weak when they are improperly and insufficiently nourished. Pure blood is their proper lood, and pure blood comes by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is thus the greatest and best nerve tonic. It also builds up the whole system.

HOOD'S PILLS are the favorite family cathartic, easy to take, easy to operate.

HYPNOTIST LEEDS.

Gets a Number of Good Subjects, Tues day Night.

From the Daily Irontonian, Ironton, O. The entertainment at the Masonic Hall, Tuesday night, by Hypnotist Leeds was even more interesting than that of Monday night. A number of new subjects were captured, and they made fun by the wholesale for the audience in attendance. At 10 o'clock Mr. Leeds hypnotized a young man who travels with him, and he was pur to sleep on the sta c. Afterwards he was carried on a cot to Arnold's drug store and placed in a window. Mr. Leeds says he will sleep twenty-four hours without interruption and he defies anyone to arouse him in that time.

OTISVILLE.

Donation Visit Postponed-Attended the Fire Parade-Other Notes.

Correspondence of Argus and Mercury. -The ladies of the Presbyterian Church have deemed it best to postpone for a short time the donation they proposed giving their pastor this month owing to numerous donation visits already announced in the churches near by. -The schools showed a marked derease in numbers on Thursday owing to the fire parade at Middletown. Many parents accompanied their children and those who have no children went alone. There were eighty-eight tickets sold at this place. -Mr. Cuddeback, of Westbrookville, and George Smith are gathering he apples of the late Charles Hoyt. The apples are of fine quality and the trees well

-The Wednesday evening meeting was led by the Rev. Mr. Park. -The donation of Rev. Frank Chaddially invited to be present.

"SHE DRESSES WELL."

But Her Clothes Often Cover a Living Death.

Beauty Is the Shrine of Men's Worship and Women Vie With Each Other to Make Themselves Attractive.

The remark, "She dresses elegantly," is a very common one in this age of wealth and progress. Women vie with each other in making themselves attractive, for men admire a stylishly dressed woman. Good clothes add to the charms of > the woman in per fect health, but are ill-befitting those who through ignorance or carelessness have suffered the inroads of female diseases to stamp them as physical wrecks. It is unfortunate, but true, that some physicians allow women to suffer needlessly, because man can only work from theory, and at best only patch up, without removing the cause. Proof is abundant that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removes the cause, gives strength to the weakened organs, vigorous health to the system, and therefore beauty to the face and form.

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., gladly answers, free of charge all letters. Here is one of the results:

"Three months ago, I wrote you a letter describing my troubles, which were inflammation of the womb and bladder. I had not seen a well day since the birth of my second child, 16 years ago. I had spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicines.

"Such pains as I endured. My back ached, my feet and limbs were swollen, and it was almost impossible for me to stand; I could not walk any distance. I received your answer to my letter, and followed closely all your advice. and I have been using Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound for three months. Now I can work all day without pain. I have recommended the Compound to many of my friends, and gladly recommend it to all women in any way afflicted with female troubles."—Lydia BATIR, $27 Mpring St , Greensburg, Pa
